This is a single story house with a single central gable. The roof is composition shingle and there is a large exterior brick fireplace on the south elevation. The original siding has been replaced with aluminum siding and the windows are all fixed single light in a variety of sizes. The front porch has ornamental wrought iron. There is an elevated continuous concrete foundation. Surrounding the side and back yard is a short wide board picket fence. There is an oversized two car garage with T-111 siding. The house has been so extensively remodeled that it has lost its historic character but is in excellent condition.
