Police Cadet

The Police Cadets assist regular officers by performing non-hazardous duties, assisting the officers with their reports, public fingerprinting, and other community related projects like the 4th of July parking/crowd assistance, and anti-crime campaigns.

The Police Cadets are non-compensated, but are completely insured while in training and while on duty.

You may apply for a Police Cadet position year-round.

New members will be furnished with their own uniforms and equipment upon acceptance into the program.

Who are we seeking?

To qualify for the position of Police Cadet, you must have at least a "C" average in high school or college, be between 16 and 20 years of age, and be of good moral character without any serious arrests or criminal record. The next step in the selection process involves passing a written test and taking an oral interview.

Police Cadets must be dedicated members of the community with exemplary attitudes. They need to have strong moral character, a good reputation, and be a positive role model to their peer group.

Police Cadets are expected to refrain from activities that would be considered improper or illegal.

What training will I receive?

After acceptance into the program, initial training for Cadets consists of topics headed by qualified training instructors/advisors.

Training such as firearm safety, community relations, police procedures, defensive tactics, and physical training are all part of our curriculum.
