

Finding Replacement Parts

Published on The City of Independence Oregon - Official Website (<http://www.ci.independence.or.us>)

Finding Replacement Parts

One of the hardest parts of any restoration project is finding appropriate replacement parts. Whether it's siding, doorknobs, windows, or brick, they just don't make them like they used to. Here are some resources for finding and reusing historic building materials. The State Historic Preservation Office maintains a list of suppliers for restoration projects. Additionally, the Historic Preservation Commission has compiled a partial list of deconstruction contractors and historic material sources from the area. The list is attached at the bottom of this page along with links to several material suppliers.

Supporting Documents

 Deconstruction Contractors and Historic Material Suppliers

Web Links

The ReBuilding CenterHippo HardwareBRING RecyclingHabitat for Humanity ReStore

Source URL (retrieved on 2014-07-26 02:13): <http://www.ci.independence.or.us/historic/finding-replacement-parts>